

Mommy, did this weird doll just blink?

BARDIC DOLL

Magic item
Epic

The Bardic Doll is a puppet made from wood and scales, that vaguely resembles a bard of an unidentified species, featuring a small bardic instrument, commonly a flute. It radiates an uncomfortable feeling of being watched and people sometimes witness it moving on its own.

When a coin is inserted into its mouth, the doll starts to produce music from its instrument and starts to dance on the spot for 10 minutes. Its play can not be interrupted and gives creatures (friend or foe) around it a feeling of uneasiness. The doll's performance heals 2 HP of nearby allies per combat round.

If the doll is attacked, instead of making an Attack Roll, the attacker has to roll an Insight Check against 14. If they fail, they take 1 psychic damage instead. If they succeed, the attack succeeds as normally.

The Bardic Doll has 10 HP in its animated state. When not in use, it is treated like a normal object.
